

Special Educational Needs Information Report

Broadoak

Trafford's local offer makes it easier for families to find out about the support that is available for children and young people with SEN or who have a disability. All schools and academies in Trafford are expected to identify and support pupils with special educational needs to make the best possible progress. Schools are supported to be as inclusive as possible and wherever possible, the needs of pupils with a Special Educational Need are met in a mainstream setting, where families want this to happen. Trafford's Graduated Approach document provides guidance on what should usually be available within a school's resources.

Schools have a duty to publish SEND Information on their website which is updated every year. The questions on this template were developed with parents. Some schools have chosen to complete this template to provide their SEND Information. To go straight to a particular question, use the links below:

1. What kinds of special educational needs does the school provide for?

Broadoak School provides for children with SEND in line with the Equality Act 2010. A child or young person is deemed to have a learning difficulty or disability if he or she has a significantly greater difficulty learning than the majority of others of the same age or if they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

The four areas of need outlined in the 2014 SEND Code of Practice are:

- Communication and interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, Mental and Emotional Health
- Sensory and/or Physical

When necessary, where a child has a diagnosed medical conditions the school will support them in accordance with our Medical policy.

Broadoak is an inclusive school that meets the needs of all of its learners. The school has supported students with the following range of special educational needs: Autism Spectrum Condition, Downs Syndrome, ADHD, Speech, Language and Communication Difficulties, physical disabilities, sensory impairment, learning and specific learning difficulties including Dyslexia and Dyspraxia.

2. How does the school know if children/ young people need extra help and what should I do if I think my child/young person may have special educational needs?

The school has close ties with our partner primary schools and works closely with them throughout a significant transition period to ensure that we know the needs of our students on entry. Cognitive ability (CATs) testing in the first term of Year 7 will also identify particular difficulties. All mid-term admissions are tested and assessed in order to place them appropriately within our school and to identify any particular needs. Where there is due cause (poor reading age, information provided by parents or child for example a Dyslexia Screener is completed). We liaise with previous schools to ensure we have as much information as possible in order to plan intervention if required. We believe that all teachers are 'teachers of children with special educational needs'. Teachers receive training to help them identify and refer any potential SEND to the SENCo. Additionally, termly assessments will also highlight concerns if a child is failing to make progress at the level expected for their age. Should you have a concern that your child may have special educational need you are invited to contact the school directly. You may contact your child's Head of Key Stage, the SENCo or the Headteacher directly.

3. How will both you and I know how my child/young person is doing?

Termly assessments of all children take place in all subject areas.

The parents of all of our pupils are provided with three written reports per academic year. The reports comment on progress, behaviour and attitude to learning. Progress evenings takes place annually for each year group where parents have the opportunity to discuss their child's progress with subject teachers. Additionally, we hold a Transition Evening early in the Autumn Term for our Year 7 pupils and their parents. We also hold a 'Welcome to Year 10' and 'Welcome to Year 11' evening during the same term. Members of our SEND Support Team attend these evenings. Furthermore, our Heads of Year are happy to meet with parents who wish to discuss the progress of their children during the year.

If your child is identified as having a special educational need or disability, each term you will have the opportunity to meet with a member of our SEND Support Team to discuss your child's progress, specifically with regard to their special needs and to receive feedback from their teachers regarding their progress. During this review we will discuss and plan how we will continue to meet your child's needs in the following term. For those children with an Education, Health and Care Plan our annual review is a pupil centred occasion where the children prepare their own presentation to share their achievements for the year and to highlight any worries they may have. Teachers' views are sought and shared and parents can share their own thoughts and views too. Our goal is that this event is a celebration of the year that is past and a planning platform for the year to come.

4. How will the curriculum be matched to my child/young person's needs?

In Year 7, we have a small SEND class that are assessed as our most vulnerable learners. This class is usually no larger than 15 and has the regular support of a highly experienced Teaching Assistant. The pupils have a base for their core subjects and subject teachers come to them to deliver the curriculum. This reduces the movement around school in the early months of Year 7 and reduces anxiety and distress. The children attend the teachers' own rooms where specialist classrooms are required and as the group become more confident we begin their transition to subject teachers' classrooms. Timeframes for this transition are flexible depending on the needs of the students.

Pupils are placed in sets according to their ability except in Key Stage 4 option subjects where mixed ability groupings are used. Teachers will plan lessons that are accessible to each child within their classes, differentiating for individual children as required. Teachers will use a variety of resources in order to ensure that all of our pupils can access the curriculum. These may include IT, differentiated worksheets and templates but also resources such as coloured overlays for pupils with dyslexia. Additionally, we employ a team of highly experienced Teaching Assistants, some of whom have specialist qualifications in supporting specific learning difficulties. This team is deployed throughout the school to work with a range of students in a range of subjects across both key stages. They work closely with our teaching staff to ensure that pupils with special needs are given access to the curriculum. This may take the form of small group work within the classroom, under the direction and leadership of the class teacher.

We run the Ruth Miskin Phonics Programme in school for Year 7 and Year 8 students who arrive at Broadoak with reading ages below nationally expected levels.

In some cases, students are withdrawn from lessons to facilitate intensive intervention in a particular area of need. For example, a number of students receive 1:1 tuition in reading, spelling and writing.

Additionally, we have developed the use of a number of programmes to support the emotional well-being of students as well as the speech, language and communication needs with programmes such as Talkabout and Lego Therapy. We have also developed our own 'in house' programmes where we feel a child needs a more individualised type of intervention. For example, we have a social communication and emotional intelligence programme that has been developed by one of our ASC specialists.

At Key Stage 4, some students are entered for the 'Step Up to English' qualification, which is an entry level certificate that allows students who really struggle with literacy to experience success at Silver and Gold levels and provides good basic skills that we have found have proved very useful in the written elements of the English GCSE examination.

5. How will school staff support my child/young person?

If your child is identified as having a special educational need we will liaise with you to discuss how we will support them. A member of the SEND Support team will explain the difficulties we have observed and suggest to you ways in which we plan to support your child. Once a course of action has been agreed we will liaise with you on a termly basis to let you know how your child is progressing and to discuss our proposed next steps.

All our staff receive regular training in supporting children with special educational needs. They will plan lessons, according to the Local Authority's Graduated Approach to Special Educational Needs that include differentiation, the use of resources or the deployment of a Teaching Assistant in order that your child can access the curriculum. We may provide intervention for your child outside of the classroom setting. Where necessary we will also involve other agencies to support your child such as an Educational Psychologist.

We have a range of services available that, with your agreement, we can access to provide further support for your child. These services include the LA specialists in areas of need such as sensory impairment and social and communication difficulties for example. We work with organisations who provide mentoring support, counselling, behaviour management strategies etc. Our governing body regularly review our policies and procedures and the SENCo meets termly with a member of the governing body to discuss protocol and provide feed-back. This information is not pupil specific and your child's confidentiality is maintained.

6. How is the decision made about what type and how much support my child/young person will receive?

In order to consider the type and level of support your child receives we will look at the difficulties that they have, the amount of progress they are making and take advice from their teachers about the kind of strategies that have been successful in the past. We will then discuss this with you and your child and listen to your views. The support will then be implemented. The level and type of support will be reviewed on a termly basis with you and your child and adjusted as felt necessary. Should you wish to discuss the level of support during the term, we will be happy to meet with you. Where an Education Health & Care Plan exists the level of support is often determined within this document and is set by the Local Authority. Where appropriate, we will also take advice from professionals who have seen or assessed your child such as a Speech and Language Therapist or an Educational Psychologist and they may advise us on the type and frequency of intervention required.

7. How will my child/young person be included in activities outside the classroom including physical activities and school trips?

At Broadoak we endeavour to make all trips and activities accessible for all of our pupils. In some circumstances we may need to complete risk assessments specifically for your child to ensure their safety and well-being during any activity. We will involve parents in these discussions.

8. What support will there be for my child/young person's overall wellbeing?

At Broadoak, we run a Pupil Support Programme for mentoring. Children are referred if there are any concerns for their emotional well-being and a Mentor is allocated from our Learning Support Team. Children will meet with their mentor to discuss any worries or concerns and to set mini targets to work towards positive outcomes. Additionally, we are privileged to have a counsellor from 42nd St who comes into school on a weekly basis to meet and work with identified pupils who need additional counselling support. Pupils may approach us in school to ask for these services, staff may refer concerns to the Pupil Support Team and parents who have concerns about their child's emotional health can contact us to request support in this area. We will always discuss this type of support with the pupil and we explain to them that this service is fully confidential in all aspects unless safeguarding protocol dictates otherwise or unless the child agrees to information being shared.

Furthermore, our Pastoral Support Team, including our Pupil Welfare Officer, is available around school to support and encourage all students. Individual mentoring may take place if required and will always follow if a child has been placed on a 'step-out' from school or been excluded due to their behaviour. We hope that this will help our pupils to consider and address the issues that led to their poor behaviour in order that it does not recur.

9. What specialist services and expertise are available at or accessed by the school?

We employ a considerable team of experienced Teaching Assistants, some of whom with specialist training in the support of specific special educational needs such as Dyslexia and Autism Spectrum Conditions, or in appropriate assessment protocol. One member of staff is now approved to refer a pupil for assessment for ADHD, subject to the completion of the required observations and with the consent of parents or carers.

Additionally, as mentioned in section 8, a counsellor from 42nd St, is based at school one day each week to work with referred pupils. Our school nurse is a regular visitor. She holds lunch-time 'drop-ins' on a weekly basis but is also available to meet with parents and/or pupils by arrangement. She is involved in educating our students in many areas of health such as healthy eating, sexual health, puberty etc.

Our Pupil Welfare Officer (PWO) is available to support pupils and parents with attendance or punctuality issues but can also help with advice around alternative provision for pupils with conditions that mean that they are temporarily unable to attend Broadoak. We work closely with Trafford's Healthy Young Minds Team and often host their practitioners at school so that pupils can access their support whilst minimising absence from school. We have requisitioned the services of an Educational Psychologist who, via referral, will meet students and parents for assessments or with staff to offer support, strategies and advice.

Trafford LA continue to offer support to schools from specialists in Specific Learning Difficulties, Autism Spectrum Conditions, Down's Syndrome etc and we regularly refer to them for advice, assessment or support. The SEN advisor for Physical and Medical Needs at Trafford LA is also invaluable for advice with specific medical conditions. We work with the Sensory Impairment Service to ensure children with a sensory impairment are appropriately supported. Pupils are referred to the Speech and Language team where necessary and both of these services are happy to come into school to see students in their care.

When referred, we can liaise with ENGAGE who work with children to build self-esteem, develop confidence etc.

We have our own Careers and Guidance Advisor who is closely involved with all students at KS4 and in particular those students identified as having special educational needs. She liaises closely between school, home and the identified post 16 provision. She will attend review meetings in school to provide advice and support and to ensure a smooth and effective transition. We also work with groups that can support young people who are having issues with drugs and alcohol misuse. Their service is direct and confidential.

Finally, we work with a number of other agencies such as 'Stronger Families', Social Care, Health etc who may be involved with our students in order that communication across agencies is efficient and effective. Our use of the Early Help Offer from Trafford LA is growing and we are also able to source help for children and families using this route.

10. What training have the staff supporting children/young people with SEND had?

Whole school training is delivered annually by our SEND Lead. This includes training on specific areas of need such as Dyslexia, ADHD and Autism Spectrum Conditions. Perspectives on these learning differences and strategies to support those pupils who have difficulties in learning arising from them are all covered in this training. Any suggestions, advice, strategies or recommendations provided by other agencies working with our children are fed back to teaching and support staff by the SEND Lead. We work closely with the local authority and attend the termly SEND Forums in order that we are always up to date with current and new practice.

Additionally, all learning support staff attend annual, externally led training in a variety of fields of SEND such as 'Teaching reading effectively', 'Inference Training', 'Overcoming barriers to communication' etc. Several members of the support team have additional qualifications in supporting students with Dyslexia and Autism Spectrum Conditions. A number of our team are trained in the delivery of the Ruth Miskin 'Read, Write, Inc.' programme and one in Kathleen Kelly's 'Conquering Dyslexia' and one member of the team has recently completed the Award of Proficiency in Access Arrangement Coordination.

11. How accessible is the school environment?

Our school is currently accessible for wheelchair users on the ground floor only. Our Vocational Centre and halls are accessible to all via ramps and ample door sizes. The school is generous in size meaning that mobility on the ground floor is safe for all and we have accessible toilet facilities for disabled students and visitors. We have the facility to use radio microphones to improve outcomes for students with hearing impairments.

Resources are available in most rooms for pupils with Dyslexia and our use of IT resources mean that backgrounds to presentations and boards can be visually adjusted to improve accessibility for dyslexic pupils.

12. How are parents and young people themselves involved in the school?

Broadoak has numerous events and activities for both children and their parents throughout the school year. We run many physical activities after school such as football and netball training. We run a daily Breakfast Club and an after-school Homework Club. We have a number of charity days throughout the academic year where students get involved in a variety of activities to raise money for specific charities. We will be holding literacy evenings this year for those parents who are finding it difficult to support their children with homework and want to be of more help. Pupils with SEND often help at Open Evenings and are keen to share their experiences with visitors. All children are encouraged to support events in and out of school including representing the school in sport or supporting an event such as the school fair.

Commented [CH2]:

Furthermore, we are determined to raise aspirations in all students and participate in an event run by Manchester Metropolitan University where students on the Autistic Spectrum attend a taster day at the university. This is open to students in Year 9 to Year 11 and its purpose to create interest and break down barriers.

13. Who can I contact for further information?

Carey Hammond – SEND and Safeguarding Children Manager
Fraser Mackintosh – Assistant Headteacher and SENCo
Lee McConaghie – Headteacher

14. How will the school prepare and support my child/young person to join the school, transfer to a new school or the next stage of education and life?

Broadoak School has very close links with its partner primary schools. We run a comprehensive transition programme; members of our teaching and support staff visit the primary schools to work with Year 5 and Year 6 pupils each academic year. We hold many transition events during the year to help students prepare for Year 7 and in the summer term prior to transition, our SEND leads visit each primary SENCo to discuss the needs of all of our students and in particular those with special educational needs. We meet all the children and ensure we have 1:1 sessions with students who have particular difficulties. Our teaching support staff are also involved in this process to ensure that relationships are established earlier to build confidence and lessen anxiety. All relevant information gathered on each child is shared with our teaching staff in advance of the Transition Week that runs at the end of the summer term. All the children due to start with us in Y7 spend this week with their peers, attending lessons and participating fully in the life of school. We find this is a great opportunity for our new students to get to know the school building as well as some of the older students with whom they will be learning in the coming years.

Additionally, we run a summer school – a week, during the summer holiday, where our new Year 7 cohort can attend school in a fun and relaxed way and get to know one another as well as teaching and support staff. Any paper records and copies of reviews etc are handed over at the end of the summer term. If any of our children move from Broadoak, we ensure that all our records are sent, without delay, to the receiving school and where necessary contact is made with the SENCo to discuss any concerns. When our pupils reach transition from Key Stage 3 into Key Stage 4, they are supported whilst considering and making their option choices. Our Careers and Guidance Advisor and representatives from the local colleges attend our Options Evening to provide parents, carers and students with advice and support. A parental evening at the beginning of Year 10 and again at the beginning of Year 11 is a good opportunity to meet with staff and share any concerns you may have for your child.

Throughout Key Stage 4 there are activities in school designed to prepare our pupils for when they leave us. We run taster visits to colleges, we organise mock interviews with local business people to prepare our students for this type of experience. We hold planning sessions where our students are supported in preparing Personal Statements, college applications and CVs. We continue to offer a Work Experience programme at the end of Year 10 and all of our students, regardless of their special needs, are encouraged and supported to participate in this.

Our children with special educational needs are highlighted to the Careers and Guidance Advisor in Year 9 and who then provides additional support for these students, depending on their level of need. In particular, they attend annual reviews from Year 9 onwards for those children with an Education Health and Care Plan. During these meetings we will look at what needs to be done to ensure a smooth transition to the next phase and this may involve support with transport, application forms etc. Representatives from the identified college of choice are often invited to the final review in school to consolidate transition, make introductions and share information. We work together with parents and carers and the young person in planning for the future. Our advisor is happy to support with application forms, college and apprenticeship visits. Home visits can also be arranged to meet with parents, offering advice, support and reassurance. School staff are also on hand to provide additional support with paperwork, interviews and visits.
